Daily Pulses Report 21st April 2026

News Highlights

- IMD expects above-normal heatwave days across the Indo-Gangetic plains, eastern coastal states, and parts of Gujarat and Maharashtra, with temperatures often exceeding 40–44°C during peak months. Authorities are strengthening early warning systems and outreach to reduce heat-related risks for vulnerable populations.
- The market exhibited a mixed trend today, with Tur and Urad showing firmness, Chana and Masoor remaining steady to marginally higher, while Moong and Kabuli chana declined. Yellow pea recorded slight gains, and most other markets remained stable.
- NCCF reported Moong PSS sales on 16.04.2026, with Ahmedabad K-24 stock sold at ₹4,100–4,101/qrtl, while Jaipur K-25 stock fetched higher prices of ₹7,400–7,657/qrtl, indicating strong demand for new crop.
- NCCF reported PSF sales on 16.04.2026, with Moong in Bhopal sold at ₹5,805/qrtl (616 MT), while imported Masoor in Chennai was sold at ₹5,656/qrtl (1,310 MT). Total PSF sales stood at 1,926 MT.
- Urea import prices surged to $935–959/MT, nearly doubling from February levels, due to Gulf supply disruptions. Rising input costs and lower availability may tighten fertiliser supplies ahead of the kharif season.
- Australia weather: Ex-Tropical Cyclone Maila triggered widespread rainfall across northern Australia, with totals exceeding 100 mm in parts of the Northern Territory and Queensland, and a peak of 356.2 mm at Groote Eylandt. Meanwhile, cold fronts brought lighter showers to western and southern regions, including Victoria and Tasmania.
- Australia's Chickpea prices in Brisbane are around $630/MT, slightly higher than March, but still not attractive enough to encourage selling or new planting. High input costs and dry conditions are keeping growers cautious, with many preferring to sell wheat and hold chickpea stocks, while waiting for better rainfall and price signals.
- Australia's lentil market has slowed due to tight remaining stocks, with Nipper types at $630–660/MT and Jumbo at $720–750/MT reflecting a premium for larger varieties. While exports are tapering off, new-crop prospects remain positive on recent rains, though dry topsoil may lead to increased dry sowing.
