Daily Pulses Report
14th July 2026

News Highlights

- The IMD has issued a red alert for heavy to extremely heavy rainfall over Odisha till tomorrow, with Bihar, Northeast India, Chhattisgarh, Jharkhand, and West Bengal also expected to receive heavy rainfall over the next two days. Meanwhile, heatwave conditions are likely to persist over Coastal Andhra Pradesh and Tamil Nadu, while hot and humid weather is forecast across parts of north and peninsular India.
- Today's Market: Pulses market remained firm today, led by urad and tur. Tur prices gained ₹50–150/quintal, with Chennai (+₹150) recording the sharpest rise, while urad strengthened by ₹100–200/quintal, led by Chennai SQ (+₹200). Chana and masoor increased by ₹25/quintal in key markets, matar rose by ₹75/quintal in Kanpur and Mundra, whereas moong and Kabuli chickpea remained unchanged.
- India's kharif pulses sowing stood at 5.66 million hectares (56.63 lakh ha) as of 10 July, down 23% from 7.39 million hectares a year ago. Among major pulses, tur acreage declined to 1.95 million ha (from 2.80 million ha), moong to 2.15 million ha (from 2.41 million ha), and urad to 0.93 million ha (from 1.33 million ha).
- Pulses Imports at Chennai (7–12 July 2026): Chennai imported 4,125 MT of pulses across 165 containers during 7–12 July. Myanmar urad (1,675 MT) and Canada masoor (1,250 MT) accounted for nearly 71% of total arrivals, followed by Brazil urad (650 MT), while smaller quantities of tur, cow peas, and brown eye beans also arrived.
- NCCF-PSF confirmed sales on 11 July 2026 totaled 1,090 MT, comprising 890 MT of gram from Bhopal at ₹5,057–5,061 per quintal and 200 MT of tur from Indore at ₹5,105 per quintal. The sale reflects continued government stock liquidation under the PSF scheme.
- NCCF-PSS confirmed sales on 11 July 2026 totaled 192.8 MT, comprising 147 MT of domestic masoor from Bhopal at ₹5,231–5,454 per quintal and 175.8 MT of moong from Jaipur at ₹6,726 per quintal. The sale reflects continued government stock disposal under the PSS scheme.
- Rajasthan kharif pulses sowing reached 0.249 million hectares as of 13 July 2026, down 10.4% from 0.278 million hectares a year earlier. While urad (+4.9%) and chaula (+1.1%) recorded higher acreage, moong (-5.3%) and moth (-30.3%) sowing remained below last year's levels.
- Malaysia's palm oil inventories rose to 2.5 million MT in June, the highest since February, with seasonal production expected to increase further, likely capping near-term price gains unless exports improve. However, forecasts of a strong El Niño later this year and rising biodiesel demand could provide longer-term price support, with September palm oil futures already up 12% year-to-date at 4,527 ringgit/ MT.
