Daily Pulses Report 12th October 2026

News Highlights

- The IMD has forecast thunderstorms, lightning and gusty winds across Haryana, Chandigarh, Delhi, Punjab, Chhattisgarh, Tamil Nadu, Puducherry and Karaikal, with similar conditions in Andhra Pradesh and West Rajasthan. Thunderstorms are also possible in Himachal Pradesh, Jammu and Kashmir, Ladakh and Kerala. The southwest monsoon is likely to withdraw from additional parts of eastern and northeastern India over the next two days.
- Today's Market: Tur prices increased by ₹300 in both Akola and Solapur, while Chennai remained unchanged. Chana was mostly steady, with Bikaner down ₹50. Urad declined ₹25–100 across Chennai and Delhi, while Moong fell ₹100 in Delhi. Masoor and matar remained unchanged across reported markets, while Kabuli chickpeas (Indore 42–44) declined by ₹100.
- Urad prices strengthened across major domestic markets in the week ended 10 October 2026, supported by tight Myanmar supplies, higher import costs, rupee depreciation and Chennai port congestion. Brazilian Urad prices also increased amid limited availability and strong miller demand, while domestic new-crop prices gained despite arrivals, as quality stocks attracted active buying from millers and stockists.
- Tur prices continued to rise across major markets in the week ended 10 October 2026, approaching the record highs of November–December 2023. Lower kharif crop expectations due to adverse weather, reduced mandi arrivals, strong festival demand and miller buying supported prices, while higher import costs, rupee depreciation and lower-than-expected African supplies further tightened availability. After the sharp rally, some consolidation may occur.
- Chana prices rose across major markets in the week ended 10 October 2026, supported by miller and trader buying, festival demand for dal and besan, lower arrivals and seed demand ahead of rabi sowing. Higher import costs, limited yellow pea imports and concerns over rainfall deficits supported prices, while increased NAFED sales could improve market availability. Rabi chana acreage will depend on rainfall and irrigation conditions.
- The highest bid for the NAFED PSS Chana sale tender on October 12, 2026, declined in Maharashtra (Beed) by ₹191 to ₹7,810/quintal, Rajasthan (Ganganagar) by ₹14 to ₹7,501/quintal, and Madhya Pradesh (Harda/Khandwa) by ₹48 to ₹7,427/quintal. In contrast, Gujarat (Amreli) increased by ₹25 to ₹7,600/quintal, while Chhattisgarh (Bilaspur) remained unchanged at ₹6,900/quintal.
